Introduction

@WeRateDogs is a well-known Twitter account that shares photos of charming dogs, as well as ratings and writes funny things about them. The data is gathered from a variety of data sources using some cleaning and wrangling techniques. In addition, visualization tools such as Matplot were utilized to answer several questions, such as who the most loved dog is.

Top-rated dog

This is Sophie the type of dog that is pupper. Got 7320 favorites and 1885 retweets.

Least rated dog

This is Oliver was assigned as pupper. Users predicted its grey_fox, dining_table, or Siamese_cat. Got 2233 retweets and 5565 favorites.

Dog with the highest retweet

Here's a doggo realizing you can stand in a pool. Got 79515 retweets and 131075 Favorite.

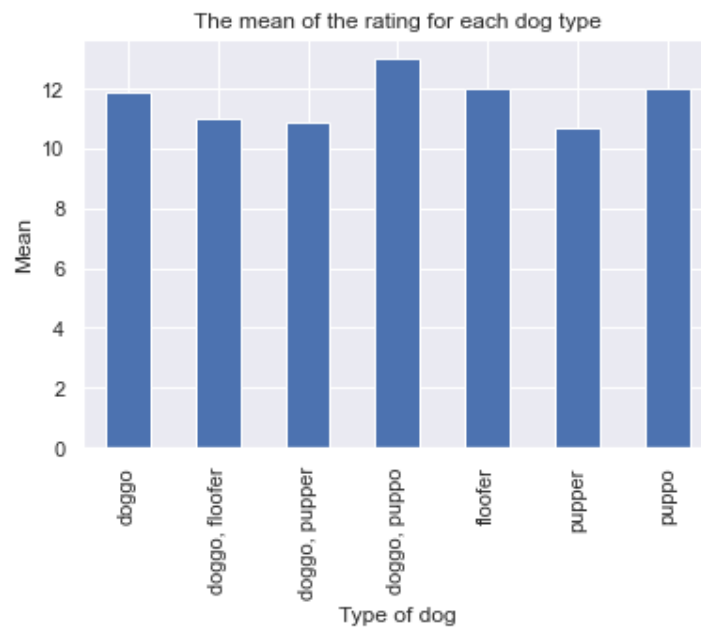

Dog with the lowest retweet

Meet Rufio he is pupper. People predicted it's a Chihuahua. He got 103 retweets and 693 favorite

Moreover, it is clear from the bar chart below that the highest mean rating of each dog type belongs to puppo. Followed by doggo both of them in one picture can get an even better rating exceeding 12. The lowest rating mean is for pupper reach a mean of around 11.

Below are bar charts used to visualize the count of retweets and the count of favorites for each dog type. In general tweets on the account has more favorites than retweets. Doggo type has the highest number of retweets while puppp gets the highest favorite. However, both of these stages in a tweet can reach up to 18000 retweets and 46000 favorites. On the other hand, pupper has the lowest number in both charts.

The mean of the favorite count for each dog type

The mean of the retweet count for each dog type